

Starptautisks simpozījs «Problems in Biodiversity Conservation in the Baltic Forests and Possible Solutions»

pirmdien, 25.11.2019. plkst. 14.30-19.00 LU Dabas mājā Jelgavas ielā 1, 109. auditorijā (organizē LU Doktorantūras skola „Dzīvnieku daudzveidība un vides kvalitāte”)

14:00 Registration, coffee/tee

14:30 Introduction

14:35 Asko Lõhmus, University of Tartu, lead research fellow (referāta tēma tiek precizēta)

15:45 Michael Manton, Vytautas Magnus University Faculty of Forest Sciences and Ecology, senior researcher: Managing forests for both wood production and biodiversity conservation: a Lithuania perspective

16:25 Coffee break

16:40 Dr. biol. Māris Strazds, University of Latvia, Institute of Biology, leading researcher: Impact of forestry activities on breeding success of Black stork. Preliminary report

17:10 Andris Avotiņš, Dr. biol. Ainārs Auniņš University of Latvia: When is it going to be Enough?: The Owl perspective for Latvian Woodlands

17:40 Dr. biol. Viesturs Ķerus, Latvian Ornithological Society: How to get on the track towards sustainable forestry in Latvia?

18:10 Discussions

Aicināti visi interesenti - lūdzam iepriekš pieteikties, sūtot e-pastu uz adresi janis.priednieks@lu.lv līdz trešdienai, 20. novembrim